

HOME A PLACE FOR NURTURING

The main difference between them is that house is concrete. House refers to a building in which someone lives. In contrast, a home can refer either to a building or to any location that a person thinks of as the place where she lives and that belongs to her. ... A home can even be something abstract, a place in your mind.

Millions of Indians stranded abroad are being repatriated. People stranded in different states have one thing in mind - get home. In times of crisis, we all want to return to our abode of memories and reunite with our loved ones.

The home environment has a strong influence on the child's emotional and social development. Unhealed emotional wounds in childhood manifest in adult relationships.

When your children leave their nest, what are the memories and emotions they will carry with them?

Make your home a place for nurturing the future of your children.
From house you make it a home.

Make your day joyful.
